NOTE TO PARENTS AND TEACHERS

The exercises in this book are for beginning readers or for older children who need help with their reading. They are for teaching “Johnny,” but of course the book is meant for boys and girls.

Start with the Sounds of the Letters

Start with the sounds of the letters on the first five pages. The sound to be learned is always the beginning sound of the two words pictured. Teach Johnny to make the sound when you point to the letter and to point to the letter or write the letter when you make the sound.

Take as much time as seems necessary for this preliminary work; you may well spend several weeks at it if Johnny is a beginning reader. Even if he is older, don’t simply assume that he knows these sounds; check and make sure. Be patient: it will pay off later on. Don’t aim for perfection. Rather, make sure Johnny realizes that letters stand for sounds and is reasonably good at connecting the right sound with the right letter.

Then, and only then, start Exercise 1.

Let Johnny Sound Out the Words

Whenever Johnny is stumped by a word in the exercises, let him work it out for himself. Tell him to sound out the word. If he can’t, let him look up the letter that is puzzling him on the chart in the back and refresh his memory of its sound by naming the two pictures aloud. Let him do this as often as necessary until he is perfectly sure of the sound of the letter, or letters.

Explain about Small Letters and Capitals

Explain to Johnny carefully that there is a small letter and a capital letter for each sound. However, concentrate on the small letters first. Difficulties with capital letters can be straightened out later.

Teach Writing and Spelling as well as Reading

Use the exercises to teach writing and spelling as well as reading. You will probably be tempted to go ahead with the reading and slight the writing and spelling. Try to resist that temptation. Ideally, Johnny should learn to read and write each of the exercise words at the same time. Let him write each of the words from dictation. It is well worth taking the extra time.

Repeat, Repeat, Repeat

There is a large amount of repetition in the exercises, and 22 of the 72 exercises are reviews. However, that does not mean that doing each exercise once is enough. Do each one of them until Johnny can read and write each word in it without the slightest hesitation. When you have done all the words horizontally, from left to right, do them vertically. Do them from right to left. Do them from the bottom up, diagonally, and picking words here and there, at random. Make as sure as you can that Johnny can really read all the words.

Don’t Skip or Jump

Do the exercises in the exact order in which they are printed. Otherwise you will defeat your purpose.

Don’t Let Johnny Guess

Watch out for signs of word guessing. Whenever Johnny does any guessing, insist that he sound out the word and, if necessary, look up the letter sounds on the chart in the back (or Phonovisual Charts).

Things You Should Explain to Johnny

Some of the exercises will profit from a little explanation beforehand. Here are a few simple points to tell Johnny:

Before you do Exercise 10 with him, explain to him that before a, o and u the sound of k is spelled c, but before e and i it is spelled k. After a short vowel it is usually spelled ck.

Before Exercise 14, explain to Johnny the rule about the letter s at the end of a word: After the consonants f, k, p, and t, it stands for the hissing ss sound, but after all other sounds it stands for the z sound.

Before Exercise 21, explain to Johnny that the sound of ch is usually spelled ch at the beginning of a word and tch at the end.

Before Exercise 24, tell Johnny that there are words that sound alike but are spelled differently, like meet and meat, seem and seam, or week and weak. Point out to him that they have different meanings.

Before Exercise 30, explain to Johnny that the oi sound is usually spelled oi inside a word and oy at the end.

Before Exercise 31, explain to him that it is usually ou inside a word and ow at the end.

Before Exercise 32, tell him that the au sound is usually spelled au in the middle and aw at the end.

Before Exercise 40, explain to Johnny about the “silent e” at the end of a word, which means that the a should be sounded with its “long vowel” sound rather than its “short vowel” sound. Be sure he fully understands the switch from cap to cape, mad to made, hat to hate. This is very important, since here for the first time Johnny learns that a letter can have two different sounds. (Probably Johnny will by now have learned to recite the ABC. If so, tell him that the silent e “makes the letter say its name.”)

Before Exercise 48, explain to Johnny that ing works just like the silent e in changing a short vowel into a long vowel. To keep the vowel short in such ing words, the final consonant must be doubled before adding the ing, as in hopping, filling, and drumming.

Before Exercise 49, explain to Johnny that the double-consonant rule applies also to final y, as in nutty, sunny, and foggy. Explain to him also that the plural of lady is spelled ladies, of body, bodies, and so on. Tell him also about lazy, lazier, laziest, and lazily.

Before Exercise 51, remind him again of the double-consonant rule and point out to him the difference between robed and robbed, filed and filled.

Before Exercise 53, show Johnny that the double-consonant rule applies also to final er and le, as in rubber, trigger, settle, and middle.

When Should Johnny Start to Read?

Johnny should not read anything else until he has done about 50 of the 72 exercises. After that point, he may start to read stories and other reading matter that interests him. Be sure, however, to let him read these stories aloud to you, so that you can correct mistakes. Let him sound out words and stop him from word guessing.

Don’t let him sound out irregularly spelled words, such as do, where, sure, woman, said, friend, and so on. Whenever such a word occurs, tell him immediately what it means and explain that it does not follow the rules. In this way, he will gradually learn the irregularly spelled words without being confused about the phonetic rules he has learned.

Give Johnny only reading matter that really interests him, such as fairy tales, if he is a small child, or adventure stories, if he is an older boy. The most important thing he should learn is that reading is fun.

Advice for Remedial Reading Teachers

From Dr. Rudolf Flesch's

1955 Why Johnny Can't Read and what you can do about it

“To begin with, let's try to isolate Johnny from his word-guessing environment. While he is in school, that is difficult or almost impossible. So the best thing will be to work with him during the summer vacations. Let him stop all reading – all attempts to read. Explain to him that now he is going to learn how to read, and that for the time being, books are out. All he'll get for several months are lessons in phonics. ... This, incidentally, is important. Take him fully into your confidence and explain to him exactly what you are trying to do. Tell him that you are going to do something new with him – something entirely different from what his teachers did in school. Tell him that this is certain to work. Convince him that as soon as he has taken this medicine he will be cured. ... Start him on the phonics lessons. Go with him through the Exercises, one by one, always making sure that he has mastered the previous one before you go on to the next. ... Only when you are through – or almost through – with the drills and exercises, start him again on reading. At first, let him read aloud to you. Watch like a hawk that he doesn't guess a single word. Interrupt him every time he does it and let him work out the word phonetically. He'll never learn to read if he doesn't get over the word-guessing habit” (115).

“We mean phonics as a way to learn to read. We mean phonics that is taught to the child letter-by-letter and sound-by-sound until he knows it – and when he knows it he knows how to read. We mean phonics as a complete, systematic subject – the sum total of information about the phonics rules by which English is spelled. ... We say, and we cannot be budged, that when you learn phonics, in our sense of the word, you learn how to read. We want our children taught this particular set of facts and rules, because we know that this is and only this will do the job” (121). “Systematic phonics is one thing, unsystematic is another. Phonics is simply the knowledge of the way spoken English is put on paper. ... Among other things, this means that there is an end to phonics. Phonics is something a child can master completely, once for all, with the assurance that he has covered everything there is. ... There are a known number of items to be mastered and when he is through he knows how to read. You are a teacher, Mrs. Smith. You must know that when there is an end to the book, when he knows that at the bottom of page 128 he will be through. So and so many pages covered, so many pages covered, so and so many still to go. There is a concrete goal. Talk about motivation – what better motivation could there conceivably be than that knowledge that at the end of page 128 he will have learned how to read?” (122).

“If you use phonics as the method of teaching reading, you teach children the alphabet code. You do this step by step, in easy stages. At each step, you give the children plenty of material to practice on. When you teach them the short o, you give them a hundred words or more with short o to read aloud again and again until the pronunciation of the short o has become fully automatic. You do the same thing with short u and ch and th and igh and ou and mps – through the whole inventory of 181 items until it's all firmly fixed in the pupil's subconscious mind. Sounding out and blending practicing – there is no other way. It's like practicing scales on the piano or practicing driving until you're good enough for the road test” (Why Johnny Still Can't Read, 75).

Oral Reading Speeds

By Donald L. Potter

March 2003

Rapid word processing (identification) speeds are an indicator of decoding automaticity. The faster a student can decode words while maintaining accuracy, the higher the degree of automaticity. Good comprehension depends on decoding automaticity: higher automaticity makes possible higher comprehension.

In the rush for higher word processing speeds, it is very important not to skip any essential sub-skill. Whole-word readers sometimes appear to initially read faster than phonics-readers; but in the long run, their faulty word processing skills lead to lower automaticity and seriously compromised comprehension.

Word processing skills (speed and accuracy) can be accurately measured by timing student's oral reading of Rudolf Flesch's 72 Exercises. The times recommended by the Victory Drill Book reflect years of highly successful experience teaching the Exercises to children of every age. These speeds are an accurate measure of independent word processing skills, and they are an indication of developing automaticity, which in turn naturally promotes high-level comprehension. They are one-minute timings.

Minimum Speed for Page Mastery

Grade	Speed
Pre-Kindergarten	20 words per minute
Kindergarten	30 words per minute
First Grade	40 words per minute
Second Grade	55 words per minute
Third Grade	70 words per minute
Fourth Grade	85 words per minute
Fifth Grade	100 words per minute
Sixth Grade	115 words per minute
Seventh Grade	130 words per minute
Eight Grade	130 words per minute

Once the students have mastered the Exercises, they should start every year with a rapid review of all 72 Exercises. Each student's speed should be measured to assure that they are able to read the words at the calibrated speed for their grade level. This review is very valuable and will assure that no student will develop whole-word dyslexia through overexposure to debilitating sight-word books. Exclusive attention to sight-word readers (grade level readers) can seriously erode the student's decoding skills. Challenging vocabulary requiring intense attention to decoding new words enables students to maintain and improve their word processing skills, expand their vocabulary, and enhance their comprehension skills.

These are bare minimum speeds for page mastery. Many of my better first graders are able to read at 60 to 100 words per minute.

One of the great serendipities for any school that adopts Flesch's 72 Exercises is that any student new to the school will automatically be taken through a program regardless of reading level. The program itself assures that every student in the school receives exactly the instruction he or she needs - from complete non-reader to advanced reader, with no need for any special program for poor readers.

26 Letters (minus 3 superfluous letters, c, q, x) for 44 Sounds

25 Consonant Sounds

18 Consonant Pairs

Voiced		Unvoiced
1. /b/	bib	2. /p/	pup
3. /d/	dad	4. /t/	toot
5. /g/	gag	6. /k/	kick
7. /z/	zig-zag	8. /s/	Sis
9. /v/	valve	10. /f/	fluff
11. / th /	then	12. /th/	thistle
13. /w/	wayward	14. /hw/	whistle
15. /j/	jam	16. /ch/	chick
17. /zh/	treasure	18. /sh/	trash

6 Consonants called Semivowels:

19. /l/ lull
20. /m/ mom
21. /n/ nun
22. /r/ run
23. /y/ yo-yo
24. /ng/ singing

1 more consonant:

25. /h/ his

We have used 19 letters to write 25 consonants: b, c, d, f, g, h, j, k, l, m, n, p, r, s, t, v, w, y, and z. Two more are superfluous letters representing consonant combinations: q and x. We have used 21 of the 26 letters to write 25 consonant sounds. $26 - 19 = 5$

This leaves us exactly 5 letters – a, e, i, o, u – to deal with 19 vowel sounds.

The 19 Vowel Sounds

5 So-called short vowels:

- 26. /ă/ bag
- 27. /ĕ/ beg
- 28. /ĭ/ big
- 29. /ŏ/ bog
- 30. /ŭ/ bug

5 So-called long vowels:

- 31. /ā/ mate (ai, ay)
- 32. /ē/ mete (ee, ea)
- 33. /ī/ mite (y, ye)
- 34. /ō/ mote (oa, oe, ow)
- 35. /ū/ mute (ue, ew)

3 diphthongs:

- 36. /au/ Paul, crawl
- 37. /ou/ spouse, cow
- 38. /oi/ noise, boy

2 sounds for oo, short and long:

- 39. /ō/ push, whoosh
- 40. /ō̄/ Rube, boob

1 sound of a in ma:

- 41. /â/ pa, ma; bar, car

2 r sounds:

- 42. /air/ fair, heirs, dare swear
- 43. /ur/ girls, prefer, fur, doctor

All purpose muttering vowel: shewa.

- 44. /ə/ drama, item, devil, button, circus

25 Consonants + 19 Vowels = 44 Speech Sounds spelled with 23 Letters

This Foundation for Phonics Chart was developed by Donald L. Potter from Dr. Rudolf Flesch's discussion, "What is Phonics" in Why Johnny Can't Read and what you can do about It. This chart was prepared on 9/22/04 and published on the Internet on 11/3/04. The 72 Exercises Dr. Flesch developed for teaching students to read the 44 speech sounds using the 26 letters of the alphabet can be found in the last half of his book. Other information on phonics reading instruction can be found on the Education Page of my web site: www.donpotter.net.

Two Difficulties of Our Alphabet System and Our System of Spelling:

1. We have half as many letters as we have sounds – which means that half the symbols a child has to learn consist not of one letter but two – like ay, ea, sh, ch, and so on.
2. Our most important single letters are used to spell two or more entirely different sounds, namely, the five vowels, a, e, i, o, u, and the consonants c and g.

Therefore,

if you want to teach a child to read without confusing him utterly confusing him, you have to start with single letters that stand for single sounds, then go on to sounds spelled by two-letter or three-letter combinations, and finally teach him that some letters do not spell one sound but two.

The Catch:

You can't teach a child to read without letting him read words. And every word in English has a vowel. So you have to start with teaching the child the letters a, e, i, o, u in spite of the fact that each of them spells a long and a short vowel. The only way to solve this problem is to begin by teaching the child only the five short vowels (which are far more common than the long ones) and postpone the long vowels until a much later stage.

The Natural Sequence of any phonics method is:

Step One: The five short vowels and all consonant combinations spelled by a single letter.

Step Two: Consonants and consonant combinations spelled with two or three letters.

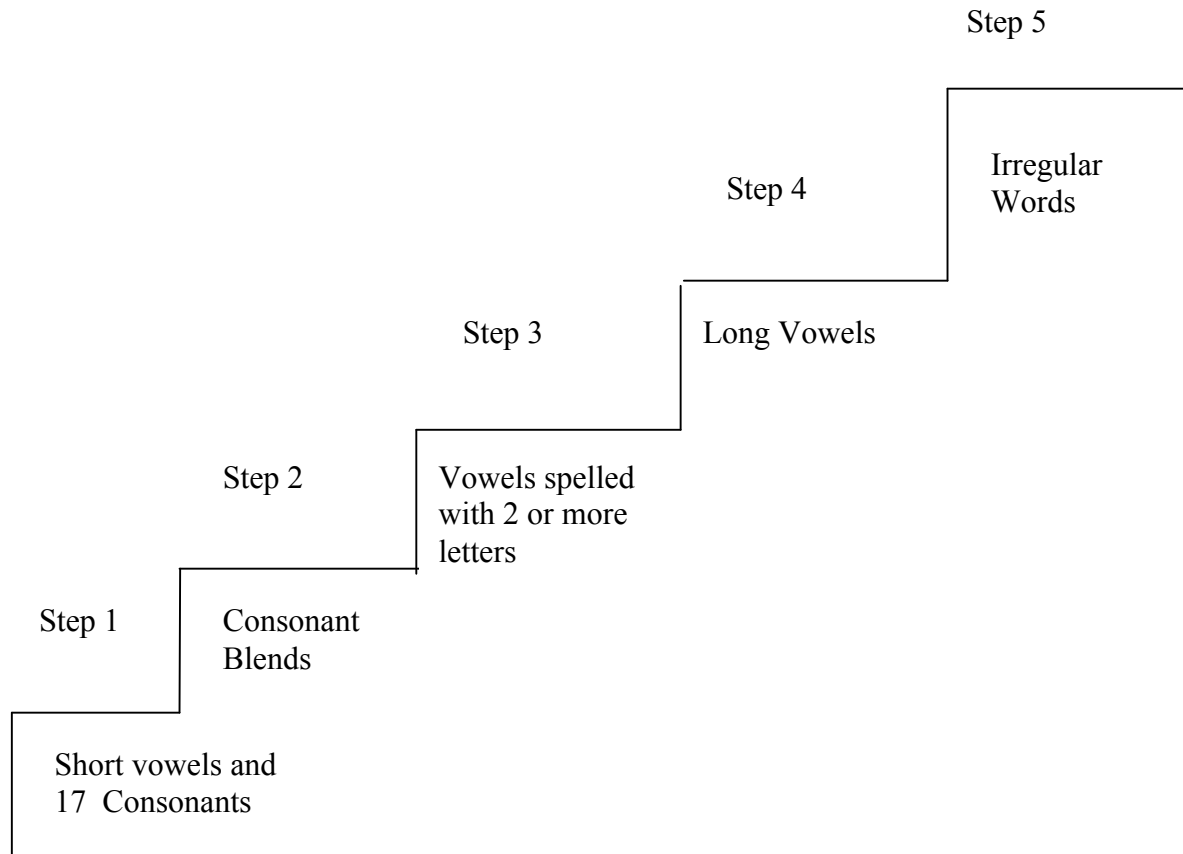

Step Three: Vowels and vowel combinations spelled with two or three letters.

Step Four: The five long vowels: v-c-e (mate, mete, mite, mote, mute)

Step Five: Irregular Spellings.

See pages 27 through 32 of Rudolf Flesch's Why Johnny Can't Read and what you can do about it for detailed instructions on teaching students to read from the "sounds" using the Five Steps of the Natural Phonics Primer. This is the natural sequence based on our imperfect system of spelling. For helpful instruction on how to teach Flesch's method, see my free *Audio Instruction for Teaching Rudolf Flesch's Natural Phonics Primer*TM on my web site www.donpotter.net.

Five Steps of the *Natural Phonics Primer*TM

“These five steps occur in all phonics systems of teaching a child to read English. There are some so-called phonics readers on the market that do not follow this pattern, but they can hardly be called phonic by any proper definition of the word.” (Flesch 27).

Dr. Flesch’s words ring as true today, over fifty years after they were written, as they did in 1955. His method is as effective today as it was then. Tens of thousands of children learned to read with his 72 Phonics Exercises. The same is happening today as more and more parents and teachers experience the power of what I like to call, Flesch’s Natural Phonics Primer.

My own personal success with Dr. Flesch’s Five Step Natural Sequence convinces me that Flesch’s method is highly effective for beginning and remedial reading instruction.

Concerning These Phonics Transparency Masters

Prepared by Donald L. Potter

June 10, 2009

I prepared these Phonics Transparency Masters to assist me in teaching Rudolf Flesch's 72 Phonics Exercises to large classes using an overhead projector.

Teachers will need a copy of Flesch's 1955 Why Johnny Can't Read and what you can do about it for detailed instructions on how to teach the exercises for maximum efficiency. Flesch also published the exercises with instructions in a 1956 book entitled, Teaching Johnny to Read, which you can read in the "Note to Parents and Teachers" above.

I have published an mp3 audio file that explains exactly how I teach the sounds and lessons. These files are available for free download on my website www.donpotter.net.

These are the finest phonics lessons available anywhere. They are equally good for beginning or remedial students. I have used them extensively for many years in my private tutoring. The results, without exception, have been excellent.

It was Mr. Edward Miller, the author of the Miller Word Identification Assessment for Artificially Induced Whole-Word Dyslexia, who pointed out the value of Flesch's Exercises for student with a whole-word guessing problem. I contacted Mr. Miller on March 11, 2003 about his Sight Word Eliminator. Rather than discuss his innovative Sight Word Eliminator, he proceeded to explain how he worked with two students at a time to teach Flesch's 72 Exercise. He would work with two students at a time, one to his left and one to his right. The student on the left would read two columns of Flesch's Exercises, Mr. Miller would read the middle column, and the student on the right would read the two columns on the right. After my conversation with Mr. Miller, I did a through study of the linguistic foundation of Flesch's approach to teaching reading with phonics-first. I have taught it to students from kindergarten up with astonishing success.

The exercises are particularly effective for preventing and remediating whole-word guessing.

Here is the Internet address for my Flesch Phonics Page, where you will find many valuable aids to help you teach Flesch's phonics-first program:

I prefer to use the Phonovisual Charts to teach the sound-to-symbol relationships before practicing the Exercises. www.phonovisual.com. You can use the sound pictures in Flesch's Johnny if you prefer. I have used both.

The Miller Word Identification Assessment for artificially induced whole-word dyslexia is available on the www.donpotter.net website.

I called Gus Enderlin on 1/5/1998. He told me that teacher in the Midwest were using Rudolf Flesch's Exercises in Why Johnny Can't Read. The book went out of print so they republished it, adding sentences and put rules in the back of the book.

On 11/20/05 I called Mrs. Kate Flesch Portillo, Rudolf Flesch's daughter. She told me Flesch taught her six kids with his 72 Exercise and all his own children.
